Livable Communities For All Ages

I would like to personally invite you to the Seymour Senior Center on Wednesday, January 8, 2014 from 8:30 a.m. to noon to have a conversation about creating a livable community. Developing a livable community will encourage us to look beyond the field of healthcare and will explore housing options, accessibility issues, community support systems, civic engagement, and more!

We will be joined by Julia Evans Starr from the Legislative Commission on Aging and John Erlingheuser from AARP-CT who will share innovative ideas and practices and highlight resources available to assist us. Both of these organizations have been leaders in raising awareness of the opportunities and challenges inherent in the rise of the older adult populations.

I invite you to join the conversation and discuss ways we can work together to make Seymour a more “Livable Community.” I envision that our first step will be to collectively define the characteristics of a livable community. This conversation will serve as a starting point in cultivating our commitment toward action.

JOIN IN THE CONVERSATION! JANUARY 8, 2014
