

YOUR VOICE IN THE STATE HOUSE

The 2023 session of the Connecticut General Assembly has begun and I am proud to represent you. As you may know, the boundary lines of State House Districts changed to ensure every resident has equal representation in the General Assembly. If you are new to the 54th House District, I would like to introduce myself as your new state representative. I look forward to serving you and I'm pleased to serve those Mansfield residents in the part that remains in my district.

We face many challenges including inflation, a rising cost of living, access to quality healthcare and an affordable college education. Your voice informs the decisions I make as your representative in the state government. I look forward to hearing from you about ways we can improve Connecticut.

Best,
